

"Timely and important...illuminates the burgeoning, multi-faceted world of KM from an information practitioner's perspective."

—Larry Prusak

KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT

For The Information Professional

Edited by
T. Kanti Spikantaiah
and Michael E.D. Koenig

asis
ASIS Monograph Series

Table of Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments	vii
-----------------------------------	-----

Part I: Overview

Chapter 1: An Introduction to Knowledge Management	3
T. Kanti Srikantaiah, Dominican University
Chapter 2: Knowledge Management: A Faceted Overview	7
T. Kanti Srikantaiah, Dominican University

Part II: Background & Issues

Introductory Notes	21
Chapter 3: The Evolution of Knowledge Management	23
Michael E. D. Koenig, Long Island University, and T. Kanti Srikantaiah, Dominican University
Chapter 4: From Information Management to Knowledge Management: Beyond the "Hi-Tech Hidebound" Systems	37
Yogesh Malhotra, Florida Atlantic University and BRINT Research Institute
Chapter 5: Is Knowledge Management Really the Future for Information Professionals? ...	63
Judith Albert, Ernst & Young LLP
Chapter 6: Information Services and Productivity: A Backgrounder	77
Michael E. D. Koenig, Long Island University
Chapter 7: Key Challenges Facing the Evolution of Knowledge Management	99
Mark Mазzie, Barrett International
Chapter 8: Ethics for Knowledge Management	115
David P. Schmidt, Fairfield University

Part III: Knowledge Management—Creating the Culture of Learning & Knowledge Sharing in the Organization

Introductory Notes	135
--------------------------	-----

Chapter 9: Organizing to Know and to Learn: Reflections on Organization and Knowledge Management	137
Mark Addleson, George Mason University
Chapter 10: Knowledge Management and Building the Learning Organization	161
Vicki L. Gregory, University of South Florida
Chapter 11: Knowledge Markets: Cooperation Among Distributed Technical Specialists	181
Steve Sawyer, Kristin Eschenfelder, and Robert Heckman, Syracuse University
Chapter 12: Tacit Knowledge and Quality Assurance: Bridging the Theory-Practice Divide	205
Bill Crowley, Dominican University
Chapter 13: Knowledge Management: A Research Scientist's Perspective	221
Sumitra Muralidhar, Georgetown University Medical Center

Part IV: Knowledge Management—The Tools

Introductory Notes	235
Chapter 14: Telecommunications and Networks in Knowledge Management	237
Curt M. White, DePaul University
Chapter 15: Internet Search Engines and Knowledge Management	255
Ken Black, Dominican University
Chapter 16: Information Technology in Support of Knowledge Management	269
Vikas Sahasrabudhe, World Bank
Chapter 17: Knowledge Management and Vocabulary Control	277
Ileen Fiddler, Comdisco, Inc.
Chapter 18: Infomapping in Information Retrieval	297
Bor-sheng Tsai, Pratt Institute
Chapter 19: Information Coding in the Internet Environment	319
Abraham Bookstein, University of Chicago
Chapter 20: Repackaging Information	333
John Agada, University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee

Part V: Knowledge Management—Application

Introductory Notes	349
--------------------------	-----

Chapter 21: Components of a Knowledge Strategy: Keys to Successful Knowledge Management	351
Thomas Short, IBM Global Services
Chapter 22: From Library to Knowledge Center: The Evolution of a Technology InfoCenter	365
Ellen J. Ryske and Theresa B. Sebastian, Andersen Consulting
Chapter 23: Knowledge Management in the Health Sciences	389
Prudence W. Dalrymple, Dominican University
Chapter 24: Knowledge Management: Can It Exist in a Law Office?	405
Nina Platt, Faegre & Benson LLP
Chapter 25: The Intersection of Knowledge Management and Competitive Intelligence: Smartcards and Electronic Commerce	419
Katherine Shelfer, Drexel University
Chapter 26: Knowledge Management in Developing Countries	443
T. Kanti Srikantaiah, Dominican University
Chapter 27: Knowledge Counseling: The Concept, the Process, and Its Application	459
Anthony Debons, University of Pittsburgh; Jorge Encarnacion, Consuelo Figueras, Susan J. Freiband, Mariano A. Maura, Annie F. Thompson, University of Puerto Rico; and Edwin Reyes, Office of Management and Budget Information Center, Puerto Rico
Chapter 28: Knowledge Management in Swedish Corporations: The Value of Information and Information Services	481
Margareta Nelke, Tetra Pak Research & Development AB

Part VI: Appendices

Appendix A: A Course Syllabus for Knowledge Management (Business, Records Management, Library and Information Science Disciplines)	503
T. Kanti Srikantaiah
Appendix B: A Comprehensive Bibliography on Knowledge Management	511
Prepared by Morgen MacIntosh and T. Kanti Srikantaiah
Appendix C: Information-Driven Management: A Thematic Model	540
Appendix D: About the Contributors	557
Index	571