

COLIN CARNALL & CHRIS ROEBUCK

STRATEGIC LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

658.4092
C288S
2015
c.1

WORLD-CLASS PERFORMANCE

Contents

List of figures	x
List of tables	xi
1 Strategic leadership: a key to organisational success	1
1.1 The aim of the book	1
1.2 Leadership: the glue that holds together people, teams and organisations	3
1.3 Can leadership in organisations keep up with the changing world?	5
1.4 What is happening in organisations now?	7
1.5 Women and leadership in senior executive and board appointments	10
1.6 Strategic management and leadership: the missing element?	11
1.7 Understanding strategic leadership: the holistic picture	13
1.8 Changing minds is key to effective strategy delivery and success	15
1.9 Summary	16
Questions	17
2 Key themes in strategic leadership	19
2.1 Introduction	19
2.2 Is the age of command and control leadership over?	19
2.3 Moving forward: implementing new strategy	22
2.4 Developing effective strategy: data from the past, new ideas for the future, or both?	24
2.5 Identifying the optimum future state: the group as catalyst	27
2.6 Reaching the future state: delivering change as a leadership group, not just as individuals	28
2.7 Moving from status quo to future state: the learning organisation – the logical path	32
2.8 Engaging everyone with the future state: social movement and large-scale change – the inspirational path	35
2.9 Summary	36
Questions	37

3	Development of leadership theory	38
3.1	Introduction	38
3.2	Trait theory	39
3.3	Behavioural and leadership style approaches	41
3.4	Contingency theories	44
3.5	The Fiedler model	43
3.6	The Vroom and Yetton model	46
3.7	The Path-Goal theory	48
3.8	The Hersey-Blanchard situational leadership model	49
3.9	Transformational leadership	51
3.10	The social identity approach	53
3.11	New leadership	54
3.12	Competency models for leadership development	58
3.13	What next?	61
3.14	Summary	62
	Questions	67
4	Can leadership be developed, and if so how best to do it?	68
4.1	Introduction	68
4.2	How best to develop individual leadership?	74
4.3	Individual operational leadership development	76
4.4	Individual strategic leadership development	76
4.5	The individual in relation to the organisation and team	78
4.6	How can we design a good individual leadership development process?	81
4.7	Gender and leadership development	82
4.8	Who are the key stakeholders in developing individual leaders?	83
4.9	Competency models	87
4.10	The 'strengths-based approach'	87
4.11	The importance of senior management involvement	89
4.12	Using customised leadership development design	90
4.13	Senior leader development	98
4.14	Key points on optimising development programmes	99
4.15	Deciding between internal and external resources	99
4.16	Using external providers	99
4.17	Issues for executive education providers	101
4.18	Final thoughts: the future	102
4.19	Summary	102
	Questions	103
5	Leading for high performance	104
5.1	The drive for high performance: the leader as performance enabler	104
5.2	Leadership for high performance	105
5.3	Strategic leadership: spreading high performance	109
5.4	High performance and the team	111

5.5	Roles within teams: high performance through the right team 'mix'	114
5.6	Impact of organisational cycles	115
5.7	Process design and leadership: the other part of the answer?	117
5.8	The performance measurement challenge	119
5.9	Summary	121
	Questions	122
6	Leading change	123
6.1	Overview	123
6.2	Leading through change	123
6.3	From the leaders' perspective	126
6.4	Organisational choices in change	128
6.5	Resonance	133
6.6	Culture and its impact on change	134
6.7	Leaders leading change	135
6.8	The accelerator effect	136
6.9	Making strategic change effective	137
6.10	Leadership as 'contested terrain'	140
6.11	Leadership and the analysis of 'change readiness'	143
6.12	A model of change leadership	148
6.13	Summary	153
	Questions	157
7	The ethics of leadership	158
7.1	What is social responsibility?	159
7.2	Using social responsibility to improve brand	160
7.3	Ethical issues	162
7.4	Personal business ethics	162
7.5	The leader's ethical dilemma	163
7.6	Ethical standards	164
7.7	Moral codes	166
7.8	The 'relational' perspective	169
7.9	Adaptive leadership	173
7.10	Responsible and ethical leadership on an industry wide perspective	175
7.11	Rebuilding industries post-crisis	178
7.12	At the organisational level	178
7.13	Creating space for dialogue	182
7.14	Summary	182
	Questions	183
8	Politics, power and perception	184
8.1	Introduction	184
8.2	Organisation culture	187
8.3	Models of organisation culture	190

8.4	Leadership, power and corporate politics	196
8.5	Power and conflict	198
8.6	Blocks to decision-making	200
8.7	Working through the blocks	203
8.8	Organisations, decision-making and rationality	205
8.9	Summary	215
	Questions	216
9	Knowledge as a leadership resource	217
9.1	Leading change by leveraging knowledge	217
9.2	Changing the rules of the game	218
9.3	Strategic leadership as a learning process	225
9.4	The concept of 'social capital'	227
9.5	The learning organisation	236
9.6	Changing perceptions of organisations	237
9.7	Disciplines for the learning organisation	240
9.8	Convergence and the learning organisation	243
9.9	Summary	244
	Questions	245
10	Systems for organisational leadership development	246
10.1	Why take a systems approach?	246
10.2	The leadership delivery system: basic principles	249
10.3	Roles and responsibilities	253
10.4	Step 1: Identification of current leadership supply – measurement systems for performance and potential	255
10.5	Step 2: Identification of current and future leadership demand	258
10.6	Step 3: Matching of current supply to current demand, and matching of current supply to future demand	258
10.7	Step 4: Development planning	260
10.8	Step 5: Development delivery – organisational effectiveness as well as individual effectiveness	261
10.9	Aligning development with organisational direction – the 'outside-in approach'	266
10.10	Organisational leadership development in the global context	268
10.11	Working collaboratively in the organisation: the 'domains' of leadership	269
10.12	The impact on organisational leadership of HR practice	275
10.13	Making leadership work across the organisation – is anything happening?	277
10.14	Retention – keeping the assets you have developed	279
10.15	The future	280
10.16	Summary	282
	Questions	283

11	Leadership through 'changing minds'	285
11.1	Understanding leadership	285
11.2	Leadership from a problem-focused perspective	286
11.3	The 'disciplined' mind	297
11.4	'Unlearning'	299
11.5	Mobilising minds	304
11.6	Summary	308
11.7	So what now?	310
	Questions	311
	Bibliography	312
	Index	325